Our Story So Far

MISSION, VISION & VALUES

Our Mission: At NextGen, we are focused on empowering and educating young minds in The Gambia. We provide comprehensive educational support, consultations, and scholarships to equip our youth with the necessary skills and knowledge to overcome challenges, innovate, and lead with integrity.

Our Vision: We envision a future where socio-economic barriers do not limit the aspirations of Gambian youth. Through education, we seek to cultivate a generation of informed, ethical leaders and entrepreneurs committed to sustainable community development and the betterment of society.

Our Core Values:

- Empowerment: Unlocking the inherent potential within each individual.
- Education: Championing the transformative impact of learning.
- Integrity: Upholding honesty and transparency.
- Respect: Valuing diversity and fostering inclusivity.
- Innovation: Encouraging creative solutions and critical thinking.
- Collaboration: Building strong partnerships for greater impact.
- Sustainability: Committing to long-term, impactful solutions.

OUR PURPOSE

We believe in the transformative power of education to uplift individuals and communities. Our purpose is to break the cycle of poverty in The Gambia by empowering the youth with education and leadership skills, fostering a future where socio-economic barriers do not limit potential

“Social Barriers should not limit potentials.”

Next Generation Prize for Literature

In January 2023, we supported the Young Writers' Association of The Gambia (YWAG) with D18,000 towards the award of "The Next Generation Prize for Literature" under the Gambia Prize for Literature (GPL) 2023. YWAG is a group of writers with over 50 members who support literary works for young people in The Gambia. The association provides a platform for the recognition of young writers.

The funding provided by the foundation was instrumental in successfully organizing the prize, including appointing a distinguished panel of jury members and managing the call for applications.

Stakeholders Launch Book Titled: "The Gambia in Transition: Towards a New Constitutional Order"

By Ndey Sene
 Stakeholders in Gambia's transitional reform process took the opportunity to launch a book titled: "The Gambia in Transition: Towards a New Constitutional Order", during a recent dialogue on building strong rule of law institutions. The dialogue which was convened by The American Bar Association in collaboration with the Institute for Human Rights and Development in Africa (IHRDA) and Law Hub Gambia, was held on October 21st, 2022 at the Sir Dawda Jawara International Conference Centre in Banjul. The book was the first of its kind and contains twelve chapters of diverse contributions from scholars and practitioners that

Chief Justice delivering his keynote statement during the book launch provide context-specific understanding of the past, present and future effects of constitution-making and evidence-based local realities. The book also traverses some of the enduring and emerging constitutional issues that the Gambia has grappled with.

Number of estimated users of the furniture in 5 years

On October 27, 2021, the Next Generation Foundation made a significant contribution to the educational landscape of Bundung by donating fifty thousand Dalasis (D50,000.00) to Briwama Lower and Upper Basic School. This generous donation was strategically aimed at enhancing the school's infrastructure, specifically focusing on procuring essential furniture. This initiative underscores the foundation's commitment to creating an environment conducive to effective learning. The fund is estimated provide furniture for 34 students and may last for at least 5 years

Feedback

Good furniture is critical in the operations of a school. The provision of furniture to the tune of D50000.00 by the Next Generation Foundation to Brimawa School in 2022 was timely. The school had just built two new classrooms and desperately needed furniture. The extra sitting accommodation provided by The Next Generation Foundation has helped the school to increase its enrollment annually over the years, to the delight of parents. -
